

Example Questions for Test
(they not necessarily part of the real test)

Choose and mark only one answer for each of the following questions. Write down in the exam papers the letter and ....

1. The transmission strategy in which a message is sent to every computers in the network and that computers discard or accept the message depending on the destination address of this is called:
a) unicast                      b) message spawning                      c) multiplex transmission                      d) broadcast                      e) upload
2. The transmission strategy in which a message is sent specifically to a a single receiver is called:
a) broadcast                      b) message                      c) mono post                      d) unicast                      e) download
3. The service protocol that allows mails to travel over the Internet is?
a) RPC – Remote Procedure Call                      b) FTP- File Transport Protocol                      c) SMTP – Simple Mail Transport Protocol                      d) NNTP – Network News Transport Protocol                      e) WAP – Wireless Application Protocol
4. The service protocol that allows moving files over the Internet is?
a) RPC – Remote Procedure Call                      b) FTP- File Transport Protocol                      c) SMTP – Simple Mail Transport Protocol                      d) NNTP – Network News Transport Protocol                      e) WAP – Wireless Application Protocol
5. The standard for interfacing external applications with information servers such as HTTP servers or Web servers is called?:
a) extranet and/or intranet                      b) common graphic interface                      c) middleware                      d) bridge                      e) common gateway interface
6. Which files embedded in Web pages have “class” extension?:
a) javascript                      b) vbscript                      c) CGI script                      d) object libraries                      e) applets
7. The cohesive collection of information made available over Internet build as a collection of linked files to a central Web page is commonly denoted as?
a) directory                      b) site                      c) central resource                      d) hierarchy                      e) search engine
8. Describe what the script within the following web page do.
This is the form displayed by the page. Identifies and writes the names of this elements into the corresponding displayed elements.

Quantity:	<input type="text"/>
Price:	<input type="text"/>
VAT:	<input type="text"/>
Value:	<input type="text"/>
<input type="button" value="Compute"/>	<input type="button" value="Clean"/>

